Hi all,

Here are draft notes from the meeting last Friday. Roger and I were hoping you could share this information with Dennis and ask him about the status of CEQ efforts that we could share with Nicole and participants from the meeting, as per Nancy's discussion. Feel free to edit the notes as you feel appropriate.

Thanks,
Felicia

I typed up notes from the meeting (called in from home) and can send them out when I get home tonight. I remember only one "action item"-- that Nancy (or maybe Dennis) would ask about the status of this effort with the CEQ in terms of discussions and stakeholder outreach.

Let me get back to you.

The quick answer is "make the salmon better.". Not sure he can do that all by himself. ;)

Roger:

Dennis McLerran is our RA.

What would Nancy like Dennis to do? Will does not want to do the regional collaboration so it will stop there. But we can surely have a conversation.

Is Dennis your RA?

Nancy asked me (Ken was there) after the meeting to touch base with Felicia, which I haven't done yet, about next steps. She thought it best for Dennis to work with Will on this.

I don't think they were suggesting doing the TMDL over or again.

Does that make any sense?

Dear Roger:

I think I was misunderstood on Friday. I did not recommend we restart the Columbia River Temp TMDL, rather I was recommending that we instead start a conversation about how we address reducing temperature in the Columbia River Basin, and that could be achieved through the collaboration. I am concerned about resources if we restart that work effort. R10 does not have the resources at this time to take on that Temp TMDL.
